Dear Sir:

In November 2002, the CIA sent out a mass mailed letter to requesters of documents relating to the Star Gate/remote viewing program.

The letter said that most of the documents had been released to the public via the CREST documents system at the National Archives. However, the letter also said that about 20,000 pages of documents still remained to be reviewed for declassification at that time.

Can you please tell me if those documents have subsequently been reviewed for declassification?

Sincerely,
